Dear Mr. Bezos:

As a long-time, loyal customer of Amazon.com Inc (www.amazon.com) and author of 10 titles published by Amazon's CreateSpace (www.createspace.com), I make a direct appeal to you though I am forced to use a circuitous method to communicate with you.

Amazon's CreateSpace banned my book, Truth Will Come To Light whilst Justice Wilts, in response to Pierre Heafey's request to do so whilst tossing unsupported defamation accusations and the false use of a court order spiced with trickery and lies into the ring whereupon Amazon CreateSpace promptly honored the millionaire real estate mogul's request marking me an unprofessional journalist.

First and foremost, I have never published any defamatory material in my life and as a member of the Society of Professional Journalists firmly conduct my professional life subject to the SPJ's Code of Ethics.

Furthermore, if Amazon's attorneys carefully review the court order of March 7, 2013, they will not find a single word that orders Amazon to burn my books or finds me guilty of defaming Pierre Heafey, any member of his family, or anyone else. Hence, Amazon CreateSpace acted carelessly, hastily, and in utter disrespect of my constitutional rights and my status as a loyal Amazon customer.

In addition, The Honorable Ronald C. Dresnick issued a new order on December 2, 2013 which order rescinds all previous orders.

Here's the bottom line.

For the past 25 years I have been informing my Grand Lifestyle readers about the exploitations and illegal activities of Pierre Heafey, have successfully defended myself in defamation lawsuits, and shall continue to bring the truth to light. I trust your careful review of "How desperate are real estate moguls Pierre Heafey and Gino Falsetto to hide the truth?" and your compassion and fairness will take its due course and will permit me to continue being loyal to Amazon and deliver the truth via my Amazon CreateSpace published works.
